

Tell us what you think...

One of the best ways to get involved is to tell us what you think.

- What do you think "Who Cares?
Scotland" should be doing?
- What do you think are the important issues for young people who are looked after?
- We welcome all contributions -
So get in touch with us!

Who Cares? Scotland

Speaking out for young people in care

"It's hard to speak up on your own
but by getting together
we will have a louder voice."

What is Who Cares? Scotland?

It is an independent organisation, which is not part of social work.

What are our aims?

- To work with looked after young people to improve their standard of life.
- To act as a voice for young people.
- To make young people aware of their rights.
- To support young people.
- To try to get rid of the poor image of looked after young people.

Why get involved?

Because working with Who Cares? Scotland can:

- Give you a real say about the care you receive.
- Help you change things for the better.
- Help you share your views with other young people in care.
- Help you stand up for your rights.

Who Cares? work locally & nationally with most Scottish local authorities to:

What we do

- Give individual advocacy and support to young people.
- Listen to young people's views.
- Campaign for change.
- Help policy makers to consider young people's views.
- Bring together looked after young people.

How to get

- Send us a letter, poem, drawing or story.
- Contact your local worker.
- Come to our events
